

My Very Own Scooter
Author: Ahmed Ben Sayeed
Illustrator: Sarah

3asafeer.com

The original work of this book was made possible through the generous support of the All Children Reading: A Grand Challenge for Development (ACR GCD) Partners (the United States Agency for International Development (USAID), World Vision, and the Australian Government). It was prepared by Asafeer Education Technologies FZ LLC and does not necessarily reflect the views of the ACR GCD Partners. Any adaptation or translation of this work should not be considered an official ACR GCD translation and ACR GCD shall not be liable for any content or error in this translation.

Adam took two round slices of cucumber from the plate and laid them on a piece of paper.

Hmmm... They look like wheels.

He drew a line to connect the wheels and then drew a perpendicular line for the handlebar.

Then he used some spaghetti for the hand grips.

He closed his eyes and rode his scooter, just like Brian and Mike.

How wonderful! His very own scooter, that he made all by himself!

THE END